SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

A lot of material crosses our desk from the different branches of the Civil Defense program. We glance at all of it before discarding it, just to keep well-informed ourselves on the subject. We got to wondering, after being exposed constantly through daily newspapers, magazines, hometown newspapers, etc., just how much of the information really "took"? And we had thought to write a little something in this column.

Now, during this last week, we've had a little taste of what the Civil Defense officers have been working toward. Ever since Dan Patch, coordinator for this area, came out and spoke before the chamber of commerce many moons ago, we've been alerted to be prepared for emergencies "and other disasters." The feeling has been all along for most of us that this was just a thinly veiled allusion to atomic bombing, which seemed as abstract to our thinking as reaching for the moon—leave us face it now, didn't it?

But all of these directions which seemed so vague while we were reading them, came alive this week for many of us in this area. For instance, one of them is to stay off the telephone if the call is not necessary. The daily papers report the biggest rush of telephoning in the company's history. In our own case, we were talking to the nice lady in Anaheim who heads up the Red Cross office over there who had called to get information about a family in Cypress manor. We were happy to send back a favorable report and she was in the midst of thanking the people out here for their wonderful support and offers of food, clothing and warm beds for the night, when a voice interrupted us, saying he was the constable and needed the line for an emergency. Needless to say, we hung up!

When you read to turn off the gas, water and stay at home off the streets, how could you comply? As much as we've read to do it, we haven't the faintest idea how to go about the first two. And you could see yourself, here in Cypress Friday, how well people complied to the latter command. The other part to this direction is to keep your radio tuned for an all-clear signal. In the case of this week's flood, this did not come for many hours in some sections, but still motorists were trying to get somewhere else.

General Walter M. Robertson, state director of civil defense, asks housewives to check their shelves and be sure they have enough canned and packaged food to maintain their family for three days, under "emergency conditions." We can imagine there were plenty of families glad that mother was prepared in this instance, and it didn't take an atomic bomb, either. We were snowed in one time, and remember the meals served from the well-stocked larder of the farmer's wife, augmented by corn bread when the white flour ran out.

Everyone has his own story to tell of the "big rains". Speaking about the community, we think the preparation at the schoolhouse was one of the most laudable examples of preparedness. Under Miss Dickerson's capable management, 100 people could have been served hot meals, and preparations were made to sleep several families. Thanks to the rain's letting up, these facilities were not needed.

The local volunteer firemen and county forestry department stood ready to help where needed. Dr. Damron's trained medical corps was alerted and stood by to serve.

So the next time someone in authority in civil defense wants to give you some good advice or ask your help with regard to "emergencies", remember Mother Nature is still a strong second to a man-made atomic bomb, and every once in awhile she shows her hand, just to prove it!

Just a few little observations this week: the bee-u-ti-ful new fireplace in the house the Harris's

Heavy Rains Cause Damage As Cycle Of Dry Years Ends

Rain storms that brought between four and five inches of precipitation to valley areas of Orange county late last week washed out highway and rail lines, flooded half a score of cities and closed more than a score of schools as it channeled into the low areas.

Hundreds of residents were evacuated in Stanton, West Cypress, La Jolla Colony, West Orange and other localities at the height of the flood. North side of Anaheim was under water when Carbon creek overflowed. Garden Grove, Midway City and Los Alamitos were inundated. Laguna canyon was under water and the highway there closed.

Coast highway remained open, but other state routes and several county roads were blocked for a time by slides and washouts.

In Santa Ana Gardens, Adolph S. Torrones, 57, bet 50 cents with his brother-in-law that he could ford the Santa Ana river torrents. He was swept away by the current and his body was recovered 500 feet downstream, lodged against a sand bar. He was the county's only flood fatality.

On the credit side of the ledger, Santiago reservoir, almost dry, before, held 10,000 acre feet of water after the storm. More than 25 feet of water was backed up behind Prado dam. Fullerton and Brea dams held similar amounts. Except for Santiago dam, however, the water was being steadily released. Santiago dam, privately owned, is the only storage dam of the lot.

Girl Injured In Fall From Horse

Shirley Swafford is in Artesia hospital with two crushed vertebraes which she received after falling from her horse Sunday morning at home. The fifteen-year old miss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Swafford, 7715 Miller road.

Doctors who attended Shirley Tuesday morning placed her in a cast from her chest down to her hips. It is reported she will remain in the cast for about four months.

Gregg's Market Holds Drawing

A drawing, which is held every year at the close of their anniversary sale, is the way Mr. and Mrs. Gregg show their appreciation to customers for their patronage during the year. Sixteen prizes were given away Monday evening as Wesley Jones, store employee, acted as Master of Ceremonies. Jones was formerly manager at a wholesale house in Anaheim for three years. Little Wanda Schoneveld and young R. L. Gibson shared honors in drawing the names.

Winner of the first prize turkey was Mrs. Pauline Pitts, with a ham going to Mrs. Harold Stevens for second prize. Third prize, a set of glassware, was won by Gary Zwart. The name of the fourth prize winner was not learned.

Others to win, in order of the drawing, were S. Iwashita, D. Bock, Sr., Jack Gwinn, Thelma Marvin, Mrs. Jennie Rust, Mrs. Ruth Vander Mei, Mrs. R. C. Scally, Mrs. Homer Tidwell, Mrs. Jennie Rust (won twice), Mrs. R. M. Fuquay, D. Bock, Jr., and Grace Ricks. All live in the vicinity of Cypress.

Chamber Outlines Its Three Aims For Civic Program Coming Year

At its first meeting of 1952 last week, the Cypress chamber of commerce outlined a three-point program as its most important aims for the year.

Finances for the program will require over $1,000, so the first step is to get every available citizen to join the group. Dale Kroesen, president, said he would present a plan of organized solicitation in the next few weeks, in which every merchant will be contacted, and later all residences.

Need For Sewers

Since the officers of 1950 and 1951, headed by Jim Broadbelt, who officially turned the gavel over to Kroesen at the meeting, made definite progress in getting a survey of the sewer problem here, it was decided to carry on and set a goal of forming a sanitation district this year if engineer's reports advise it.

Broadbelt, who was appointed chairman of the program committee, is to contact a representative of the firm of Boyle Engineers, to come and speak to the chamber at the next meeting February 21.

The speaker will discuss what a survey by his firm will tell in connection with the advisability of the least expensive and most practical type of sewer system Cypress should have, and an approximate cost.

The survey, according to earlier reports, will cost about $750, one of the reasons the chamber must raise over $1,000.

Discuss Dairy Question

A brief discussion of the proposal of the dairymen of this area to attempt to have the Cypress section zoned for dairies was held, but since the dairymen have not yet announced a definite plan, it was decided to wait until the facts are available. Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler, secretary, was instructed to write a letter to the Los Angeles county clerk and ask for the present dairy zoning laws east of Artesia in that county.

Christmas Decorations

The third point on the year's program was purchase of more Christmas street decorations, to add to the ones bought this year. Over $100 was spent this Christmas, and it is the plan to add about that much every year until the chamber has enough to decorate the main streets of the town sufficiently. It will also save rental money each year.

History Of Banking Told To Kiwanians

The story of banking from the time the name was devised to present day systems was described to the Cypress Kiwanis club Monday night at its meeting in Loyd's Drive-in.

William Claussen, from the Bank of America branch in Anaheim, spoke briefly on how banks came into being, and especially on the history of the development of the Bank of America on the west coast. Then he answered questions from the membership on such subjects as the validity of checks as receipts, how long an uncashed check is good, and how the "stop payment" procedure works.

Guests of the club were Eldon Danny, Jake Westra and John Renema.

Haskell Kelley was program chairman and Miss Alene Rogers accompanied the group singing.

Davis Boy Cuts End Off Finger

Leslie Davis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Davis, Sr., of 8811 La Salle street, lost the end of the index finger of his right hand Sunday and mashed the remaining three. He stuck his hand in the belt of a rotary pump. His father had just turned to throw the switch when the accident occurred.

The end of the finger was entirely severed, leaving the bone intact. The flesh was carried to the physician, and he was able to "sew" it on to the injured digit. Leslie's hand was placed in a cast and the nine-year old is making a rapid recovery.

The senior Davis is still nursing a damaged finger, injured in an accident while driving in the snow, which was reported last week. Father and son make for "double trouble" in their family.

Park Plans Get County Nod

The Cypress public park proposal sailed smoothly past the county planners and supervisors, with full backing of the community behind it. Permit was approved.

The Rev. Clarence G. Eigenhuis got a final "no" on his application for permit to erect a new church building of 100-seat capacity on Walker st., north of Orange ave.

The planing commission, after considering the application several weeks, and hearing protests from the neighbors, recommended against the permit on the ground that the site was inadequate to accommodate the building and the required off-street parking. The unfavorable recommendation went before the supervisors Tuesday.

Denied, also, was the application of Ray Reitkert for permit to establish a 200-cow dairy on Crescent ave. near Gay st. The commission received 23 protests against the proposal.

TWO LOCAL MEN ON COMMITTEE

Two Cypress men, active in the democratic party circles, were elected last week to membership on the executive committee of the 28th Congressional District Democrats. They were Carl Sanders and Robert Cawthon.

The election of officers must be ratified by the membership attending the next regular meeting January 31 in Oceanside.

GET YOUR AUTO LICENSE

February 4 is the deadline for the renewal of automobile licenses. And time has a way of growing short, but rapidly.

Hence this reminder that now is the time to plunk out the cash called for on your potential registration slip which you received (or should have received) through the mail. As you know, you can get your new 1952 license plate tabs at the nearest office of the California Motor Vehicles Department or at other designated places. Payment must be made in cash or bank money order which you can buy at any branch bank. Personal checks are not acceptable.

In case your potential registration slip has not arrived you can take your current white slip with you when applying for your 1952 license.

But don't miss the February 4 date or you'll be hit by a stiff penalty. —Calif. Commentator

DISTAFF SIDE

We live and learn, as did the business college which offered a "short accounting course for women."

The course was withdrawn when the college realized that there is no accounting for women.

APPRAISING '51

The California economy moved ahead solidly and substantially in 1951. The year end financial statements of California banks left no doubt about that.

The continuing economic surge was reflected in higher bank resources with loans and deposits generally registering sharp increases. The report of California's statewide branch banking institution, Bank of America, was particularly significant in that this institution reaffirmed California's position of world leadership in banking by becoming the first non-government bank to exceed $7 billion in resources. The increase in savings of $386 million which Bank of America reports, together with its nearly 2½ million loans for more than $5½ billion in 1951, further indicates the economic pace in California.

One thing which makes the California picture especially healthy is the way new industries are developed. An example of this is cotton production. Hardly a decade ago California's cotton output was negligible. Today it is not only one of our biggest money crops but California is now among the top cotton producing states of the nation.

It is this spirit of enterprise which is rapidly pushing our State on to a dominant position both in our own country and in the world. —Calif.Commentator

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

The President came up to the Hill, on the 9th, to deliver his annual "state of the union" message. It is harder this year to make a brief analysis of it. The general feeling, which I join, was that it was the poorest speech of the seven this President has delivered to us, on succeeding Januaries, and that he seemed the least interested in it himself.

One of my friends, with dry New England wit, remarked that it reminded him of the presiding officer going through the closing ceremonies while the lodge was getting ready to serve the turkey dinner in the anteroom.

There was less applause than in previous years. There was applause when the President entered the chamber, less than for Churchilly a few moments before when he entered, with Anthony Eden, and sat down beside Mrs. Truman in the executive gallery. There was no further aplause for the first seventeen minutes of the speech, or approximately half of it, and applause only three times during its reading. Twice this was perfunctory applause from the Democratic side; once it was spontaneous applause from both sides.

The latter came when the President said, "Our kind of government above all others cannot tolerate dishonesty among its public servants." There were also quiet smiles, on both sides of the aisle. Two days later, the President announced that the Attorney-General, Howard McGrath, was to head the drive to remove the "dishonest public servants." Thus the smiles seem to have been justified. The general feeling around these parts is that if it had not been for Mr. McGrath's incompetence, and what might be called "political oversight," the situation would not have developed in the first place. The Democrats themselves have een sugegsting his resignation.

In the second paragraph, the President said, "I should like to speak of the necessity of putting first things first," and asked, in effect, for a truce to politics in the present emergency. A few paragraphs later, he said the government, "must keep working to bring about a fair deal for all Americans." Then he proceeded to ask for increased federal expenditures for roads, farm supports, public housing, socialized medicine, federal aid to education, social security payments, and other items, on top of the heavy defense spending contemplated in the message. He came very near to admitting we were having a war in Korea when he asked for a program of benefits "for our veterans who have seen service since the fighting broke out in Korea."

On the whole therefore, regretfully, there were no solutions offered for our foreign or domestic problems, except staggering expenditures for armament, to bolster up a weak policy, and the same policy of spending and spending, on the part of the federal government, to meet any or all domestic problems.

With the dollar dropping; with billions more being appropriated than the government can spend in any one year; with a threat of more taxes to be asked for; with federal spending followed by federal controls and interference, and with a foreign policy based on appeasement, and an attempt to buy friendship, while our own nationals rot in foreign jails, it was hardly a speech which will meet with much enthusiasm in the nation. I sensed a feeling, when I was home, that the people wanted less of centralized government, and more of government on the principles of the republic, under which many of the measures the President recommended would be the responsibilities of the states, not of Washington.

The effect of the state of the union message of 1952 can be summed up in the words of one South Carolina member, as he hurried through the lines of reporters who gather in the Speaker's lobby, after such a speech. "What was your reaction?" asked one of the reporters. Without stopping, the member looked around, in surprise, and said, "There was no reaction!"

Double Trouble!

*The Federal Government is $258,116,321,818.00 in debt—which means that every one of us, including new-born infants, is $1,600 in hock!

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

Those handsome, gilt-edged bonds and fancy stock certificates that you'd like to own—or maybe wish you didn't own—represent a special job in printing. An extra double special, in fact.

It's details, unfamiliar of course to most people outside of the printing industry, were described in part the other evening to a group of laymen, the county sanitation districts' directors, who are about to sell $8,308,000 worth of bonds.

The man who will print these bonds has printed every bond issued in Orange county during the past 40 years. At least he or his father printed them. That shows how much a specialty the job really is. There are not many printers in that business.

The Jeffries Bank Note Company of Los Angeles, which will handle the sanitation bond printing, is the only firm in that business west of Chicago. It has printed every bond issued by Orange county, its various cities, school districts, or other special districts, since 1910.

It has been in business since 1892, being established then by the father of Lawrence Jeffries, who told the sanitation district directors something about the bond printing process. Some employes of the firm have been with the Jeffries plant as long as 52 years, and are so expert that they catch and correct the errors of attorneys, in the wording of matter printed on the bonds.

The bonds, to be exact, are really not gilt-edged. They are grey-edged, like United States currency, and are printed on similar paper, except for the silk threads.

One piece of equipment used in their printing is a gemoetric lathe. There are only eight of these lathes in the United States. The Jeffries plant has one of them.

After bonds are printed and sold, they have to be signed by the authorized officials of the political subdivision issuing the bonds.

WE'RE FLAG WAVERS

A great American patriot once confessed, "Sure I'm a flag waver! Can you show me a better flag to wave?"

That's how the men who belong to the Veterans of Foreign Wars feel about their country—and we don't care a damn about the wisecracks of the smart alecks.

Being overseas veterans, we're not self-conscious when our patriotism shows. On the contrary, we believe it's high time to teach the youngsters of today there's nothing corny about waving the Stars and Stripes every chance you get.

That's why we are always promoting patriotic programs — the kind that will help our kids understand what a great country America is.

Sure, we're flag wavers, and we're proud of it. And that explains why those who understand the purpose of our flag waving never fail to say—

Lieutenant Candidate For State Assembly

LT. LEROY E. LYON

Friends of LeRoy E. Lyon Jr., a Naval reserve lieutenant now on active duty, and recently returned from Kaesong truce conferences, have made formal announcement of his candidacy for election to the Assembly from the 75th district of north and west Orange County.

Since he still is in Naval service, his campaign will be handled for him by leaders in the several cities and communities of the 75th Assembly district. Their aim will be to put him in the office being vacated by Assemblyman Sam L. Collins of Fullerton.

Lt. Lyon is scheduled for release from Navy duty prior to the next legislative term of office, which begins in January, 1953. His election as assemblyman, therefore, would not interfere with his Naval service.

A native of Anaheim, Lyon is 31 years of age, son of the former supervisor, LeRoy E. Lyon of Anaheim. After U. S. Navy duty as an intelligence officer in War II, he entered law practice. He had been active in civic, fraternal, club and political affairs before recall to duty.

In announcing their backing of Lyon, and their decision to campaign for him, his friends explained their belief that "honesty, known integrity and demonstrated ability are absolutely essential to conduct of public office," and they added that they "are convinced that Lt. Lyon ably fulfills these demands for stability and enterprise."

FLOWER ARRANGING CLASSES

Gordon Baker Lloyd, well-known horticulturist, will present a free course in flower arrangements for the home, at Dorothy Dee's Shop, Flower Island, Knott's Berry Farm, Tuesday afternoons beginning, January 29, 1:00 - 3:00 p.m.

Lloyd approaches flower decorations in an entirely different manner, that makes it possible for a wider use of materials from leaves to weeds, dried twigs to lovely flowers, in containers and out of containers. His first lesson will contain a basic Valentine arrangement.

He asks that students who wish to do something with foliage or flowers from their own garden, would bring their container and materials with a pin frog, and he will make for them an arrangement to take home.

Sponsored by Dorothy Dee and her shop, his instruction is free to anyone who wishes to attend. Dorothy Dee has her regular classes in making fiber flowers on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 12:30 to 2:30, free to all.

FRANK M. LINNELL

Linnell to Run for Congress in New District

Candidate for Congress from the newly created 28th Congressional District will be Frank M. Linnell, Attorney and City Judge of Newport Beach. Linnell will seek the office for the new district of which all of Orange County and the Coastal precincts of San Diego County are a part.

No newcomer to political life, Linnell served three terms as District Attorney in Floyd County, Iowa, and is now in his second year as City Judge of Newport Beach.

Linnell counts as his hobby, fishing of all kinds, and holds memberships in most of the Sportfishermen's clubs of Southern California. He is an extensive property holder in Newport Beach, where he has maintained his home for the past 10 years. He has been a resident and practicing attorney of Southern California since 1923.

A Republican by registration, Linnell states his beliefs firmly and without equivocation. He says, "I believe that the taxing power is the power to destroy and that we as a Nation must stop putting up 90 per cent of both money and men for the world or we will destroy ourselves, without attack from any foreign power."

Linnell says he is running because he feels that his background and experience qualify him to serve the District, the State of California and the Nation as a Congressman.

Uncle Sam Takes Most Tax Dollars

About 66 cents out of every dollar the people of Orange county pay in taxes goes to the federal government, 18 cents is the county's share of state taxes bill, and 16 cents represents the tax levy on property in the county, California Taxpayers' association said today, analyzing the $134,755,000 tax bill which the people of the county paid during fiscal 1951.

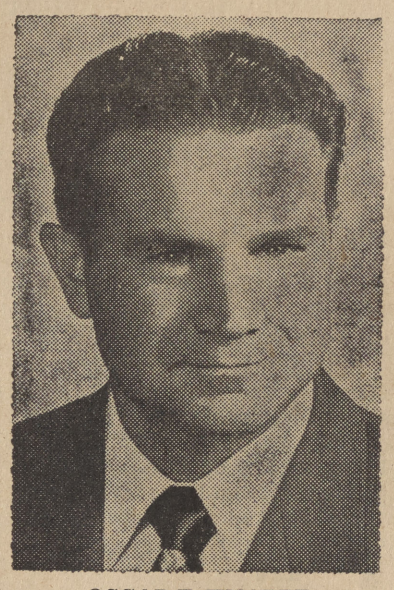
Statewide, each tax dollar which the people of California pay includes about 68 cents for Uncle Sam, 19 cents for the state of California, and 13 cents for local property taxes. Total tax bill on Californians for fiscal 1951 reached $6,168,941,000 — and this figure does not include locally-levied sales taxes, licenses, fees, etc.

"Federal spending is taking the lion's share of the tax dollar," the association said, pointing out that another enormous budget will be presented to Congress shortly after it reconvenes. Expenditure authorizations for the present fiscal year reach $91.7 billion.

"Congress should—right at the start of its new session—establish a policy of holding federal expenditures to barest essentials," the Taxpayers' association declared.

"To do this, Congress needs to resume annual control over appropriations and allow only those which are absolutely essential in this re-mobilization period."

Knappe Enters Race For Job As Congressman



OSCAR E. KNAPPE

Declaring it high time that business methods and honest Americanism should be injected into government, Oscar E. Knappe, operator-manager of the Valley Oil company and a native of San Diego county, has entered the race for congress. Knappe announced here this week he will seek the seat in the newly-formed 28th congressional district which includes both Orange county and the northern section of San Diego county.

Knappe, who is president of the Escondido Kiwanis club, said that he has been a registered Republican since he became of voting age, but that he plans to cross-file. "This is no time for party labels to help or hinder any candidate," Knappe said. He invited support of both Democrats and Republicans, as well as independent voters.

Knappe, who a few years ago was Orange county and San Diego county representative at the Washington conference of Small Business Organizations, said he believes congressmen today should divide their time equally between the problems of their own localities and those of the country as a whole. "Only in this way can real American policy be formed," he said.

Knappe, who was born in San Diego Feb. 19, 1909, came to Escondido in 1911 and has been active in civic affairs since then. He is a member of the Lutheran board for the Home for the Aged in San Diego county. He was educated in Escondido schools and for a time worked in the district attorney's office and the office of the U. S. Marshal. He is married and the father of three daughters, Arlene, Phyllis and Joyce.

Letters From Readers Away

Two letters were received this week from readers in other corners of the nation. Richard Helbig, Broad Brook, Conn., is glad to receive the paper and enjoys reading it, he says. Especially the articles by Dale Kroesen while on vacation, which he states was written with a fine sense of humor with plenty of laughs for the reader.

Helbig was a Cypress visitor last summer with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jack de Polter. He is looking forward to the day when he can return.

Mrs. Charles Knauss writes from Lake Worth, Florida. The two little girls, Sandy Sue and Bobbie Jean are fine, and the whole family is developing a nice sun tan. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutchings are visiting the Knauss's, but still they miss their Cypress friends, she says. Betty avers if it weren't for the "good old Cypress Enterprise", they just wouldn't know of the news.

"Rick" Townswick attended a meeting at the Embassy hotel in Los Angeles Wednesday evening of the Horological society. Watch repairmen meet regularly to discuss the science of watch making and repair.

Shirley Robey Weds Neil Parker In Colorful Rites

White Gladioli, stock and glowing candles beautified Capilla de San Antonio for the marriage of Miss Shirley Nell Robey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Robey, 7862 La Palma Ave., and Neil Edward Parker of New York City, on January 19, 1952 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The officiating clergyman, who used the double ring service, was the bride's brother-in-law, Rev. Joseph Sanders, who, with his wife and family, are in California on furlough from their missionary work in Matturim, Venezuela. He used the double ring service.

Before the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Teeple of Fullerton sang "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Love You Trully" as duets. Robert Ennes of Arcata, a fellow Marine of the bridegroom, sang "Because" and also served as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in traditional white satin, with a yoke of rich lace. A heart-shaped tiara held her finger tip veil. Her pearl necklace was matched by pearl earrings. Pink rosebuds encircled by white hyacinths arranged on a background of dainty net, made the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Raymond Booth of Coalinga, the bride's sister Donna, was matron of honor. Her pink satin gown was matched by her bouquet of pink stock with streamers of pink ribbon. Their sister, Virginia, (Mrs. Joseph Sanders) in pink taffeta, was another attendant. Her bouquet was identical to Mrs. Booth's.

The ushers, Ray Miller of San Gabriel and Richard Minahan of Philadelphia, Pa. are also in the Marine Corps with the bridegroom. The four marines, bridegroom, best man and ushers, were in dress uniform.

As she greeted the 125 guests, with the wedding party at the reception, the bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of black faille with an orchid corsage.

The bride is a member of the senior class of Anaheim high school, attending Centralia Elementary school in her younger days. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil M. Parker of New York is at present stationed at El Toro Marine Base.

Auxiliary– VFW Post Plan To Make Money

Members of the VFW auxiliary voted at their meeting Monday evening to join the post in a fund raising project. As explained by H. J. G. Kreissler and J. Lee Shear to the ladies at the meeting, the post would buy materials to be put in a hamper or a cedar chest. Work on the articles would be done by the women. The proceeds from a sale of tickets would be divided between the two groups on a percentage basis. Tickets would also entitle the holder to attend the annual Hallowe'en dance given by the post.

It was suggested that the auxiliary prepare a budget for the various obligations it must meet such as the cancer, home, building and other funds. It is expected to make this the one big money raising project of the year and do away with some of the lesser ways of adding to the treasury.

Three members were nominated to the position of conductress, which was recently made vacant when Mrs. Merle Jennings resigned. They were Mmes Leon Sewell, James Broadbelt and Cass Rogers. A vote will be taken at the next meeting.

A gift of unbreakable mixing bowls will be provided the kitchen of the California cottage at the children's home in Michigan, since the breakable type were reported as highly expendable. Members also facored the formation of an Orange county drill team.

Mrs. Ruth Pugh was elected to serve on the Recreation park board, replacing Mrs. Milam Williams, resigned. She also accepted the post as savings bond chairman.

It was announced that the monthly potluck suppers, suspended during the holidays would be resumed, with one slated for tomorrow night, January 26 at the hall.

The hostess committee was embarrassed by an untoward accident when part of their refreshments (a jello salad) fell on the floor, but Mmes. Ray Lucas and Ted Priddy took the incident in their stride and a lunch was served as usual at the close of the meeting.

Marcia Priddy Has Birthday

Marcia Priddy was nine years old last Friday. Since there was no school due to the storm, the party lasted all afternoon. Games were played, after which the little honoree opened her gifts.

At refreshment time, Marcia's mother served birthday cake, fruit jello and punch.

Joining in the fun were the two little brothers in the home, Gary and C. J., and Tommy, Becky and Edith Jo Bott, Allen Muesse, Denny Erkenheff, Mary Lou Sedia, David Thomas, Terry and Nancy Brown, Claudia Daniel and Jean Rogers.

Mrs. J. Thomas Entertains

Mrs. John Thomas took the opportunity to entertain several guests at an informal party in the restaurant on Lincoln ave, Tues. evening, the normal closing day of the drive-in. The Thomas's live in a trailer at the rear.

Guests were treated to a demonstration of products by the representative, Mrs. Merle Jennings. Mrs. Thomas served refreshments of cake and coffee at the close of the evening.

MOTHERS HERE JOIN SINGERS

Ten women from Cypress attended the initial meeting in Anaheim to form a Mothersingers group. They will be sponsored by the P.T.A. council of Anaheim, according to Mrs. A. B. Holborow, who reported the organization to the local P.T.A.

Mrs. Joseph aMson, of Anaheim, is director. The Mothersingers will meet in Anaheim on the second Mondays at Washington school and in Cypress on the fourth Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Mothers who like to sing are urged to join the group.

School Officials Consider Junior High This Vicinity

(This is the last of a series of two articles which sets forth the information given at the January meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association of the Cypress elementary school, at which it was voted to approve the establishment of a junior high school for this section in the Anaheim Union high school district.—Editor's note)

Serving as part of the citizen's advisory committee to plan for a junior high school in the west part of the Anaheim high school district are three representatives from the Cypress elementary school. They are Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, superintendent; Mrs. Castella Rogers, fourth grade teacher, and Dan Mackay, clerk of the board of trustees, who was chosen by the Anaheim school board.

In a talk made before the members of the Cypress P.T.A. at its January meeting, Miss Dickerson told why she favors the junior high school plan in this district. The trend in the immediate future is toward a greater school population than there is room for students, she indicated. By building a junior high school, Cypress would be relieved of grades seven and eight, thereby making room for about four classes. Anaheim union high school, on the other hand, is hard pressed for accommodations for its rapidly increasing enrollment. By taking away the ninth grade, extra facilities for the existing sophomores, juniors and seniors would be added.

Miss Dickerson and the local school board are especially favorable toward the idea of keeping children in the same age groups with similar tastes together. She calls the junior high age level the "exploratory age". A curriculum could be set up to include shop and home economics for both boys and girls. She would like, she said, for a program of music to be included, a requirement which the local elementary school has never been quite able to meet, due to limitations of budget and facilities.

There would be shorter bus hauls for the students, cutting out the long ride in the freshman high school year for the Cypress pupils, she pointed out. This would give the pupils more time in their homes, and make the parents feel a little closer to their school if it is closer to home. The junior high school bridges the gap between the jump from a small school where the child knows everyone, into a big school where everything and practically everyone is strange to him.

In further proving her point for a decentralized school system, Miss Dickerson quoted some information which was recently released by the telephone co. in this area. Their figures show that by 1960 there will be another 5 million people, which dead center of population will be the Fullerton city hall.

For this reason, if no other, members of the local school board are desirous of long-range planning. They are reported as favoring the purchase now of forty acres of land in the west part of the Anaheim high school district which will be used for building a junior high school to be shared by Cypress, Centralia, Savanna, Magnolia and Laurel schools.

It is believed that a plan for a bond election will be drafted as soon as there is something to show on paper.

Tells Good Of Conferences

Parent-teacher conferences are again in session at the Cypress elementary school. Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, superintendent, praises the support being given by the parents. She evaluates the talks very highly in that they bring together the people who know the child best and have it in their power to do the most for him.

Three years ago the county asked the Cypress school to try the idea, and this year about half of the 45 elementary schools either have or are going to have the program in their schools. Miss Dickerson has made talks to some of the groups, helping them to get their conferences underway.

MARCH OF DIMES

The March of Dimes drive in the local school is progressing nicely, according to reports. Last year some $90 was raised and it appears that this mark will be passed this year.

ATTEND MEETING GARDEN GROVE

The affair was held on Wednesday evening.

Francis F. Vaughan

New General Manager At Nutrilite Plant

An announcement recently by Carl F. Rehnborg, president of Nutrilite Products, Inc., and founder of B. P. Kids, Inc., disclosed that Francis F. Vaughan has joined Nutrilite as general manager.

He comes to Nutrilite after 35 years of service with Standard-Vacuum-Oil company and its affiliates, serving in various executive capacities. Twenty-six of those years were spent in China where he worked in cities such as Mukden, Peking, Tien Tsin, Cheng Chow, Nanking and Shanghai.

Vaughan lived in Santa Ana before starting in his business career, moving from there to Colton where he attended high school. He also attended the University of California at Berkeley.

During the first World War, he served two years in France with the AEF. A member of many technical aviation societies and organizations, he was also active in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce during the seven years he worked there as manager of aviation sales for General Petroleum Corporation in their home office.

As manager of Standard-Vacuum's aviation department in New York during World War II, he also served as a member of the Foreign Petroleum Operating Board.

He now lives in Santa Monica.

An all-day trip to the Date Festival and Riverside County fair at Indio February 22 is planned for the whole family by members of the Korn Huskers 4-H club. They will picnic at noon.

The printing firm is ready with some special service there, too. It has a signature machine which enables the ofifcial to sign 26 bonds at one time. Once, a man signed bonds in the Jeffries plant at the rate of 10,000 per hour. A banker of course, couldn't begin to do that. They have to make too many flourishes to disguise the signature.

The printing cost is a buck a bond. Just in case you are thinking of having some printed.

Add political candidates: Frank Rospaw, publisher of the Placentia Courier (perhaps), for the assembly, 75th district. The well known newspaperman, former president of the California Newspaper Publishers association, is considering entry of the campaign. He will make his decision upon returning from a northern vacation trip a few days hence.

Also perhaps: Knox Finley, Santa Ana accountant, for supervisor from the First district. Finley, son of the late Col. S. H. Finley, who represented the First district on the board, ran third among a large field of candidates four years ago, just missing the November run off. He is reported ready to try it again.

Also add: H. Lee Monroe, Costa Mesa real estate man, for congress. No official announcement here yet. He would make two from the harbor area, with City Judge Frank Linnell of Newport Beach already in the race.

A new congressional candidate from Oceanside also is rumored. He hasn't been identified up this way, so far. He would complicate prospects for Oscar Knappe (cq) of Escondido, the only San Diego county candidate so far publicly announced.

By Gloria McKinzie and Her Helpers

Seems as tho Shirlee Boudreau has got Duane Duncan's ring again —better luck this time kids! ! !

Bev Cook and Johnny De Bruyn went to the show in Long Beach Saturday and Sunday nights.

Johnny Veirra and Don Ewart have been over to see Delores Kofahl quite a lot lately.

(Does the editor "scoop" Chit Chat?)

When Tommy Mason returned to his duties in the army in Washington following his Christmas furlough, he found orders to Camp Roberts awaiting him. After another six-day leave, he reported for duty.

It is learned from an unusually reliable source that Tommy will wed what very popular Anaheim junior in July? She is top majorette and editor for her school paper, it is said.

FRIENDS FROM LONG AGO VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Antrican of Los Angeles visited with Mrs. Ruth Lockman, 8622 Belmont st., Sunday. Mrs. Lockman's late husband was an employee of Southern Pacific, as is Antrican.

The families moved from job to job through seven states, and were bound to meet sooner or later along the line. They often lived near each other down through the years.

VFW No. 3 Is Only Winner In Bowling

VFW's team No. 2 was the only bowling team to win last week in the action of the Friday handicap league at the Buena Park Bowl.

Orangethorpe Hay Co. was the victim, going down 3-1. Harold McGraw was high for the locals with a 171, while Dan Spencer was close behind with a high game of 164.

Nutrilite took the VFW team No. 3 after losing the first line in a 3-1 decision. Johnny Johnson hit a 177 and Odell Farmer rolled a 157.

Hold Services For G. C. Clark

Funeral services were held Saturday at Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars' chapel in Anaheim for George C. Clark, 5361 Lincoln avenue. He died Thursday in Orange County hospital. The Rev. W. D. Howard, pastor of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene officiated. Interment was in Westminster Memorial park.

Born on Christmas day, 1870, in Iowa, deceased is survived by a brother, Ira Clark of Hazeltown, Iowa, and a sister, Mrs. Lucy Willand of Elgin, Illinois.

A resident of Cypress for about twenty years, Mr.. Clark was a familiar figure here. He was interested in the library from tis very beginning in Cypress, and spent many hours there before the infirmities of age overtook him. Twice he donated attractive signs for the library. The present library sign was one of these.

COLORED MOVIES AT ANAHEIM FORUM

Stan Midgley, the cycling cinematographer, and his colored motion pictures of Yellowstone and the 1952 Rose Parade will reopen the Monday night forum series in the Anaheim union high school auditorium on January 28 at 7:30 p.m.

The forum programs, presented under auspices of the Anaheim union evening high school, will continue each Monday evening throughout the spring, according to W. Ralph Focht, principal. All programs are presented without charge.

James Broadbelt was elected secretary-treasurer of the Recreation park board to replace Mrs. Milam Williams, resigned. She had held the position for three years.

Mrs. Charles Richmond, who has been ill for over two weeks and forced to remain at home, is on the "mend list".

John Stogdill, 5252 Bishop st., is back from Sacramento where he has been with his son. He will occupy his home here for the next few months.

Name Committee Heads; P.T.A. Dinner Feb. 28

Needing three record players for the school, the P.T.A. will serve a dinner Thursday evening, February 28, and use the proceeds to purchase the articles. Mrs. Harry Smits, president, announced at the January meeting of the organization that the dinner will supercede the traditional home talent show given in previous years.

Mrs. Melvin Callahan, ways and means chairman, is over-all chairman. She will be aided by Mrs. Ivan Mahaffie, decorating; Mrs. Dick Bakker, entertainment; Mrs. Keith Giles, kitchen serving; Mrs. Charles Thomas and Mrs. Clayton Gouyd, dining room serving and Mrs. Jeff Davis, food. Mrs. Charles Lennerville will be in charge of ticket sales and the clean-up detail will be chairmanned by Virgil Webster.

Members of this year's life membership committee appointed by the president are Mrs. Giles, Mrs. Mahaffie and Mrs. Murton Jones.

Mrs. Smits also commended the pupils in Mrs. Lois Lissner's room for the very attractive chairman procedure books which they prepared. These handsome folders can be passed on to future committee chairmen with an outline of duties and file material.

Miss Alice Herrick, school nurse, showed a film entitled "Health and safety in the home." The reel illustrated points which Miss Herrick related in her short address. She said that the highest number of deaths of school children between the ages of 5 and 14 are due to accidents in the home, according to national figures.

Miss Herrick pointed out that many of the deaths in infants which were formerly supposed to have been caused by smothering, have now been determined as undetected respiratory diseases. New decisions have been issued by the health department with regard to chicken jox, which is prevalent now, she says. According to a new regulation, the child remains out of school only 7 days from date of the first crop of little blisters. The old regulation was three weeks. Other children in the family may come to school until they show symptoms. However, Miss Herrick warned that any child who does not feel well, or has been ill in the night, should be kept at home until he is feeling normal.

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, school superintendent, lauded the school children for the wonderful response given the new bank savings plan. The supervisor who visits the Cypress school indicates that the local students have the highest per cent of any schools under the Anaheim Bank of America school saving's department. It was pointed out that parents may send money by their children for their own savings account. It is felt this practice is especially acceptable in a town which has no bank of its own, and where most of the residents must work during regular banking hours.

Rooms winning the thrift banner are Mrs. Zebrowski's 2 and 3, Mrs. Rutledge's 3 and Mrs. Arnold's 6.

Building Permits

Building permits during the last week in the Buena Park-Cypress-Stanton area aggregated $21,218, including a residence permit of $11,368 for Joe Suey Young at 7301 La Palma, a $5850 residence permit for C. F. Wright at 3242 Commonwealth avenue, a $2000 permit for a new veneer store front for Harry Bouchier's U-Tel-Em market, 7742 E. Eighth st., Buena Park, and $2060 in small miscellaneous permits.

Storm Upsets Neighborhood

To "home folks away from home", the news this week was about the weather. The center of town itself suffered very little storm damage except in isolated cases. Most discomfort was from floor furnaces which "conked" out and from faulty cess pools and septic tanks which did not have sufficient run-off. People who live on the flooded fringes of town, many of them, have a far different story to tell.

Lincoln and Walker intersection was a bee-hive of activity with state highway patrolmen and assistants working all day Friday directing the traffic and telling people the risk of attempting to drive to Long Beach, Bellflower,

TWO KILLED AT CORNER LINCOLN, STANTON

Two Mexican nationals from a Stanton labor camp were killed and three others injured late Monday night when a car they occupied crashed head-on with a heavy tank truck at Highway 39 and Lincoln ave., south of Buena Park.

The dead were tentatively identified as Pascuel Maias, believed to have been driver of the car, and Juan C. Velazco, 33.

Near death in St. Joseph hospital at Orange is an unidentified passenger of the car. Two other passengers, Antonio Cocoba, 27, and Fernando Garcia, 25, received major injuries and were taken to the same hospital.

Theodore Earl Shelton, 51, Los Angeles, driver of the truck, was uninjured. He told California highway patrol officers that the automobile ran through a red signal at the intersection and made a left turn directly in front of the truck, which was traveling north on Highway 39. Inquest was held Thursday at 3:00 p.m. in Renaker Chapel.

and on Manchester to the city.

The rains ceased in the nick of time, or considerably more flooding would have resulted.

Kenneth Ogle, 5402 Camp street, leaves Tuesday for San Diego, where he will be assigned to an air force installation in Texas. Kenneth has joined the service and will go to school to train as a mechanic.
